Do you tweet on Twitter?

It <sup>1</sup> will probably come as no surprise that not only was Twitter the fastest growing website <sup>2</sup> _____ 2009, but 'Twitter' was also the most widely used word in the media. 'Obama' was in <sup>3</sup> _____ place and 'H1N1', the name of the swine flu virus that spread all over <sup>4</sup> _____ world, was in third. More surprisingly, the success of Stephanie Meyer's Twilight series of <sup>5</sup> _____ and films pushed the word 'vampire' into fifth place.

The popularity of the <sup>6</sup> _____ 'Twitter' summed up the rise of social networking on the Internet. ### Teenage boy climbs Everest

In May 2010, American teenager Jordan Romero made history by becoming the youngest person to climb the highest peak in the world, Mount Everest (8,848m). <sup>1</sup> e. The first thing he did when he reached the summit was to make a phone call, saying, 'Mom, I'm calling you from the top of the world!'

Jordan made the climb with his father Paul, his step-mother Karen Lundgren and three Sherpa guides, all experienced mountaineers. However, despite Jordan's age, he was by no means an inexperienced climber. In fact, this was his sixth major achievement in his dream to climb the Seven Summits, the highest peaks on all seven continents.

<sup>2</sup> _____. Between 2007 and 2009, he climbed five others in North and South America, Australia and Europe. Having climbed the Asian one, this left only the Vinson Massif (4,892m) in Antarctica to achieve his dream of being the youngest person to climb all seven.

<sup>3</sup> _____. There was a painting on a corridor wall in his California school which showed the highest point on every continent, and it fascinated him. He did some research and then one day he said to his father, 'Dad, I want to climb the Seven Summits.' His father immediately started training him and the following year they climbed Kilimanjaro.

Despite Jordan's achievements, the Everest climb also attracted criticism from people who said he was too young to take such risks. It is true that climbing at such high altitudes can be dangerous. <sup>4</sup> _____. Furthermore, a previous record holder for the youngest person to climb Mount Everest, 16-year-old Temba Tsheri from Nepal, lost five fingers from frostbite during his climb due to the extreme cold.

But Jordan's father rejected the criticisms, saying, 'We were so prepared, everything went absolutely perfectly. <sup>5</sup> _____. He said they'd spent several weeks getting used to the high altitude. He thought Jordan had trained hard and had been ready for the challenge.

Jordan himself said, 'I'm the one who started this project. <sup>6</sup> _____. I know it's a big goal and luckily for me, my family is supporting me every step of the way. In fact my family is my team.'

He hopes his adventure will inspire young people around the world to set themselves challenges – to get fit and aim high.

- a) The cold and the lack of oxygen has killed many climbers in the past.
- b) It's my dream we are following.
- c) Their knowledge and experience of the mountain will help keep us all safe.
- d) He conquered the first one, Mount Kilimanjaro (5,895m), in Africa when he was ten.
- e) ~~Jordan was 13 years old.~~
- f) Age has nothing to do with anything.
- g) Jordan says he was first inspired to climb at the age of nine.
